

Disarmament & International Security Committee DISEC Background Guide

Agenda: Proliferation and Regulation of Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems LAWS

=== TECHNOLOGICAL PROLIFERATION & WARFARE EVOLUTION ===

[Section 1] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 2] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 3] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 4] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 5] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 6] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 7] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 8] Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems capable of selecting and engaging targets without meaningful human intervention represent a significant challenge to international law and norms. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

Disarmament & International Security Committee DISEC Background Guide

Agenda: Proliferation and Regulation of Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems LAWS

=== INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW & MARTENS CLAUSE ===

[Section 1] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 2] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 3] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 4] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 5] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 6] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 7] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 8] The core tenets of distinction, proportionality, and military necessity under the 1949 Geneva Conventions require human moral judgment. The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations. Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced. Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

Disarmament & International Security Committee DISEC Background Guide

Agenda: Proliferation and Regulation of Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems LAWS

=== DRAFT TREATY PROVISIONS & VERIFICATION REGIMES ===

[Section 1] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 2] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 3] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 4] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 5] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 6] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 7] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.

[Section 8] Member States must negotiate binding protocols defining minimum thresholds of human control, export controls on dual-use sensors, and other related matters.
The Secretariat and Bench Directorate establish binding standards for all institutional delegations.
Compliance with procedural codices, academic integrity principles, and professional advocacy rules is strictly enforced.
Participants are directed to cross-reference committee directives with official UN and ICJ statutory precedents.